Real estate entrepreneur Barry Saywitz hosted the second annual An Evening for Autism, which netted more than $200,000 for Talk About Autism, Autism Society of America, Easter Seals Southern California, and Newport-Mesa Unified School District's Autism Programs. The tropically-themed benefit at Saywitz's home in Newport Beach drew more than 600 guests, who enjoyed the eight beverage bars (martini, rum mojito, wine, beer, etc.), appetizers from a number of local restaurants, video games, a golf putting green, pinball machines, and silent and live auctions. Joining Saywitz, right, at the fundraiser were singer/actress Debbie Boone, center, and Mark Whitley, president of Easter Seals Southern California.
